Any other format we should consider or other comments

1	Some modified alternate shot formats are annoyingly hilarious
2	2man team best ball.
3	Request that HGSGA members that are non CA golf members be charged the same rate as visitors for home MISGAs
4	the mixed tees was fun. Less medal play and more fun stuff- 2 man scramble, 4 person California scrambles, etc. Also, MISGA events should be split into 2 flights by handicap. Also, some events should be split into senior (white) and super senior (gold) tees by handicap.
5	Alternate shot two man
6	Would like to see a $5 cash entry into home stableford matches. Pay out for skins or some creative way to let all players feel like they can win some cash.
7	more two man best ball - only played once last year
8	I would like to see more 2 and 4 man events versus individual formats. You can continue to do stableford if you like, but make it a team event. You can also do more 2 man best ball and 4 man (3 out of 4, etc.)
10	How about a best ball.
11	gross stableford where eagles count for 8, birdies 4, pars 2, bogies 1
12	2 man alternate shot; 2 man Chapman or Pinehurst (modified alternate shot) ABCD shamble; ABCD Cha Cha Cha (3 hole rotation determines how many scores count)
13	For me, the more variety in formats the better.
14	2-man Ryder Cup-style formats (e.g., better ball, alternate shot), skin games,
15	2 man better ball, other team formats such as best 3 of 4 or 2 of 4
16	Texas 4 man scramble, where foursome must use 4 tee shots from each player.
17	I liked the Green-White-Yellow par 4-3-5 round we played.
18	I mostly enjoy playing rounds with golfers who are around the same handicap as me. It can be intimidating playing with those who are scratch or very low handicaps, although all I have played with have been nice and cordial. Other members have also expressed this sentiment to me. Just an FYI.
19	where you can take your two worst holes from the front nine and two holes from the back nine and reduce them to par for the total score. Happy Golf Day
20	Ryder Cup format
